

Using data derived from the Shuttle Radar Topography Mission (SRTM), contour lines at intervals of 5 meters were created for this affected area along the western Sumatra coast. The purple line represents the contour range from 15-20 meters, above which little impact is seen in this area. The affected area shown here is equal to approximately 28.5 sq. km (11 sq. miles).

